Briefs.

—Chestnut coal is now selling in this market at eight dollars per ton.

—Mr. Edward Keating is now occupying his new residence, just completed in the first ward.

—Some of our merchants have commenced the display of holiday goods, thus early in the season.

—The case of Russell vs. the Janesville picketing company is being tried by the circuit court to-day.

—Ice formed in this city about three-quarters of an inch in thickness since the Manitoba wave struck us.

—“Bamboo,” Colonel Burr Robbins elephant, is drawing large audiences at Haverly's theatre in Chicago. He is one of the leading attractions.

—The next attraction at the opera house will be Callender's minstrels which appear on Friday evening. They have a wide reputation and give an excellent performance.

—The new building of the Janesville barbed wire company is rapidly approaching completion. The roofing is finished, and a force of workmen are crowding the contract right along.

—Mrs. S. C. Guernsey invites the ladies in the city who are interested in “woman's enfranchisement,” to meet at her parlors on Thursday next, the 16th instant, at three o'clock, to see what can be done about it.

—The monopoly of the municipal court was broken this afternoon by the appearance of T. J. Eamons, who was called upon by his mother-in-law to explain concerning the sum of fifty dollars. The case was set for a hearing on Thursday morning.

—Prentice & Evenson have a beautiful collection of photographs of Mary Anderson on exhibition in the show windows. Fred insists that Mary is a far handsomer woman than Langtry, an judging from the picture, and there are many of the same opinion.

—The Bower City band's concert at the Guard's armory last evening, was well patronized, and many of the young people participated in the promenade. It is the intention, we believe, to continue these promenade concerts at short intervals during the winter.

—The Racine News of Monday says: “Mr. Shea, the Janesville tailor, who has taken a number of orders in our city, has an overcoat on exhibition that costs $100. It is made of Astrakhan, lined with black satin, hand embroidered with green silk, the sleeves being lined with green silk. The buttons are hand painted.”

—Mr. C. C. Keeler, of Beloit, is in the city to-day, in attendance at the meeting of the county supervisors. Mr. Keeler informs us that the Beloit malleable iron company, of which he is a member, commenced running their works to-day for the first time. The company manufacture malleable and gray iron castings. Success to them.

—The telephone company are now erecting a line of wire to Johnston. At Mt. Zion a branch will be run to Emerald Grove, and one to Milton. In a few days telephone communications will be completed with the above points. The company have also been considering the advisability of extending a line to Madison and one to Indian Ford water power, but no definite arrangements have yet been made.

—The funeral of the late Albert Warner took place at one o'clock this afternoon, at the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. Willis Miles, on Bluff street, second ward, Rev. W. T. Miller, of Hart Prairie, officiating. The funeral services were largely attended, many members of the Masonic order, of which deceased was a member, being in attendance. The remains were taken to Mount Pleasant cemetery in the town of Janesville, for interment.

—The teachers have begun in earnest to build up a library for their special use. Last evening Prof. Burton and wife, and Miss Do. Elita Howard, purchased one hundred dollars worth of standard works at Sutherland's. They bought none but those which have a permanent value, and which every teacher will need for reference in reading. Such a library has been long needed by the teachers, and they are to be congratulated upon making such a good beginning in the excellent enterprise.

—Very shortly—probably in the course of two weeks—Miss Helen R. Porter will put upon the stage in Lappin's hall, the two beautiful and popular operettas—Grandfather's Birthday, and the Little Red Riding Hood. This pleasant entertainment will be given for the sole benefit of the free library fund. Miss Porter's pupils will be cast in these operettas, and judging from their success last winter the performance will be a first class one and the audience large and enthusiastic. Miss Porter has the thanks of the ladies and all others interested in the free library for her generous contribution to that enterprise.

—Dr. S. S. Judd met with quite a heavy loss this forenoon, in the death of his favorite Goldstad mare. About three weeks ago the doctor was driving the mare across Monterey bridge, when she drove a 10-penny nail into her foot. The nail, as was supposed, was immediately taken out, but the unfortunate animal seemed to be in great pain. She was taken to her stable and received the best of care, until this forenoon, when she died from the effects of the sore foot. The doctor had several times refused to take $400 for her, and feels his loss deeply, not only on account of her actual worth, but that she was a great favorite.

—The old dilapidated building belonging to Mr. C. T. Wilcox, located on Water street, in the third ward, and which was condemned and ordered raised to the ground by the common council, at their meeting last Friday night, has been some, what repaired since the order of demolition was passed. While the front of the old rookery shows signs of internal consolidations, the sides have been strengthened by nailing a few pieces of old half-rotten boards on the rotten studding, and the rotten sills have been raised somewhat and an attempt made to strengthen it. It will remain to be demonstrated whether the order passed by the council will be enforced, or the old building be allowed to remain and longer jeopardize adjacent property. Many are of the opinion that if the marshal enforces the order, the city will have a law suit on its hands. We shall see what comes next.

THE FREE LIBRARY ROOM.

The Generous Offer of Colonel Robbins Accepted.—A Letter from the Colonel on the Subject.

In regard to the article in the Gazette last evening respecting the generous offer made by Mr. Robbins, to give substantial aid to the free library fund the following has been received from him:

JANESVILLE, Nov. 14, 1882.
To the Editor:

In your issue of last evening I notice you say that a few years ago I gave an exhibition for the benefit of the asylum for the blind, but allow me to correct you. The facts are simply these:

On the 7th of October, 1874, my agent, Mr. C. T. Kimball, advertised an exhibition in this city with the express understanding that all money received above the amount necessary to defray the expenses of giving the exhibition, was to be used for the special benefit of the asylum for the blind. After the offer was made and the performance given, and a handsome sum realized therefrom, neither the aid I offered nor the exhibition I gave, was recognized by any one connected with the affairs of the institute, either by word or letter, and from that day to this the subject has not been mentioned to me. Now, regarding my offer to aid the ladies in establishing a free library in our city, I present herewith a letter which explains itself.

JANESVILLE, Nov. 10.
Col. Burr Robbins

DEAR SIR: The Public Library Association of Janesville through the kindness of Mr. John Watson, received at its meeting yesterday, your generous offer to give an entertainment some time in the spring for its benefit. On motion the offer was accepted and a vote of thanks unanimously tendered you.

Very respectfully,
Mrs. H. S. Hoonboom, Secretary.

Permit me to say to the ladies in charge of this splendid enterprise, that I will endeavor to do all in my power, sparing neither time nor expense—to make the coming exhibition one that will repay all who will kindly assist them by the purchase of tickets. The date for the exhibition will be announced in due time through the press of the city. I would suggest to the ladies that there be no “free list” upon this occasion. All who attend should hold paying tickets. It will not be a time for dead-heads, but a time when every one interested in the successful establishment of a free library, should put his hands in his pocket and give the needed help. It is understood in connection with my offer that the ladies are to sell all the tickets and receive all the money previous to the day on which the exhibition is to be given, thus dispensing with any ticket wagon, and refusing admission to all who are not provided with tickets.

Yours respectfully,
Burr Robbins.

PERSONAL.
—Mr. Henry F. Hobart, city clerk of Beloit, was in town to-day on business matters.

—Mr. J. S. Bliss, who returned from the far northwest on Saturday, in ill-health, is out on the streets to-day.

—Mr. Richard Valentine, who started for northern Minnesota on Friday, returned yesterday without having finished his trip. He heard of the big snow drifts and heavy weather in the northern part of the state, and retraced his steps.

—Rev. Fayette Durlin, of Ripon, is in the city, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Barlow. Rev. Mr. Durlin was formerly rector of Trinity church, and was called here to officiate at the funeral of the late Thorwald W. Kelle, which takes place to-morrow at 10 o'clock, at Trinity church.

The Kellogg Concert.
The operatic concert company traveling under the name of the Fanny Kellogg-Brignoli grand concert company, appeared at the Myers opera house last evening to a beggarly small audience. It was announced in the Gazette last evening that Brignoli was “indisposed” and remained in Chicago. The absence of this silver-tongued tenor who for many years had the musical world at his feet, greatly reduced the size of the audience. It was a great disappointment, for a sad as he frequently acts, he is an enchanting singer and the people delight to hear him.

The original programme, therefore, was abandoned, and a simple concert of solos and duets, both vocal and instrumental was given. The duet from Martha, by Miss Dickerson, contralto, and Mr. Gottschalk, baritone, was a very poor selection for so small and cold an audience, although it was fairly rendered. Of course the central figure in this grand concert company—Sig. Brignoli being “indisposed,” was Miss Fanny Kellogg, the soprano. They claim that she is very near akin to Clara Louise Kellogg in vocal ability, but in fact a comparison would be odious. Fanny Kellogg is a good soprano, but she will never be able to divide the honors of the concert stage with Clara Louise Kellogg. The musical taste and the power of appreciation of the Janesville people may be at fault, but Miss Kellogg was not able to win a recall during the evening. Miss Dickerson was recalled once, and no other members of the company, except Adamowski, the violinist, in his first number, had that honor bestowed upon him.

The opera house was disagreeably cold, and the audience anything but enthusiastic.

First Class in History, Stand Up!
This is the age of civilization. While the lady's parrot calls good boys wicked names, the steam horse tears up the prairies with his iron hoofs. What is the result?

Electric lights, well-dressed tax collectors, and policemen who know how to whistle opera airs and help ladies across the streets.

Turn for a moment to the dusty records of antiquity. What dost thou see, Horatio?

I see wooden plows, pulcres, and mud luts, professors of stone-cutting, but no newspapers.

Do you see any telegraphs, railways, hospitals, public schools, street cars, and associations for the prevention of cruelty to animals?

No, sir, not one.

What is the reason?
Reason enough. In these days we have the magnificent, prosperous and always satisfactory Callender's Georgia minstrels. With a first class show like this, all the other improvements are possible, and society flourishes like old Babylon. This great entertainment will be here on November 10th.

Old papers for sale at Gazette counting room.

Week of Prayer.

The following are the topics for consideration by the Y. M. C. A., during this the week of prayer, as adopted for observance throughout the world:

Nov. 16, Thursday—“A father's prayer answered.”

Nov. 17, Friday—“What am I building upon?”
Nov. 18, Saturday—“A demon cast out in answer to a mother's prayer.”

Nov. 19, Sunday—“There is such a thing as coming too late.”
Nov. 20, Monday—“The bright future of the Lord's people described.”

Nov. 21, Tuesday—“Is my name there?”
The meeting on Wednesday morning will be led by the Rev. Mr. Brown, of the Presbyterian church; on Thursday morning, by Rev. Mr. Davies, of the Congregational church, and on Friday morning by Rev. Mr. Goldthorpe, of the First Methodist church. These meetings will be held each morning during the week, at the rooms of the Y. M. C. A., opposite the Rock county national bank, commencing at 9 o'clock, and continue for one hour. All are invited to attend, especially the young men, and strangers in the city.
